Pre-Teaching

Secondary Education 6-12

This program leads to an Associate of Arts or an Associate of Science degree from Pellissippi State and a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville in History, Geography, Economics, Political Science or English.

Students pursuing Secondary Education should choose an undergraduate major from the College of Arts and Sciences in either English or a Social Science (Economics, Political Science, Geography or History) and should plan to minor in Secondary Education. Students should note that they will earn their baccalaureate degree at the conclusion of their Senior year and teacher licensure after completion of their fifth or Professional Year.

Teacher Education Program

Students preparing for teacher licensure should make arrangements to complete the CORE Exam, and a Speech and Hearing Screening at UT during sophomore year. (Students who have an ACT composite score of at least 22 on the Enhanced ACT or 1020 on the SAT total score are not required to take the CORE.) All students must provide proof of ACT or SAT scores to UT's College of Education, Health and Human Sciences' Teacher Education Admissions office, regardless of whether the CORE exam is required.

After attaining a minimum 2.75 cumulative grade point average in the first 75 semester hours of this prescribed curriculum, including all institutions attended, students should schedule an interview with the College of Education, Health and Human Sciences' Board of Admissions at UT. The interview would normally take place during the spring semester of the junior year. Admission decisions, which are made by boards, are competitive and based on available field placements. Students interviewing for Secondary English must complete 9 credit hours of 300-400-level English courses and have at least a 3.00 GPA in all English courses.

For further information regarding procedures for scheduling the required screening contact UT's College of Education, Health and Human Sciences' Teacher Education Admissions Office at (865) 974-4118.
